They joined ships sailing from five other Italian ports. The heavy cruiser Salem sailed from Venice, carrying the flag of Vice-Adm. William Hewes, Special Counselor, Gulfport, acting for Judge Russell on vacation, Saturday dismissed a petition for a permanent injunction writ sought by a group of Bay St. Louis voters to halt issuance of $50,000.00 in street improvement bonds by City Officials.

The motion for dismissal was introduced at the hearing Saturday by attorneys representing Bay St. Louis on grounds the petitioners had adequate remedy at law which had not been exhausted. The special chancellor upheld this motion.

Dan M. Russell, Jr., and Charles R. Galloway, Bay St. Louis and Gulfport City attorneys, represented the Bay St. Louis City Officials. Jesse Shanks and Bill Andrews were attorneys for the petitioners.

Russell and Galloway argued the petition for an injunction writ was premature in that all available legal remedies had not been exhausted by petitioners, and no emergency situation would be created through issuance of the bonds.

Shanks and Andrews had questioned the validity of the city's action in setting up the bond issue and charged a public notice of the bond issue was premature as no record was available to the public in minutes of the city board at the time.

Petitioners against the bonds claimed they had filed a petition containing legally required 20% of the qualified electors of Bay St. Louis protesting the bond issue. The city denied that 20% of the electors had petitioned against the bond issue and claimed that more than 50 persons signing the petition had requested in writing their names be withdrawn from the petition.

The taxpayers opposing the proposed bond issue have ten days in which to file an appeal to a higher court if they so desire. To do so they are required to post a bond of $7,500.00. Up to this time no appeal had been made.

Senator Stennis is a cosponsor of the Farm Loan Bill, which has passed both Houses of Congress and is now before the President.

Senator Stennis said that our farm home loan program has been badly neglected. "Since 1933 the federal government has furnished or guaranteed loans for $37.8 billion to build family housing units, but only $992 million or .01% has been used to assist families living in rural areas. The need for farm housing loans is clearly illustrated by the last census of 1930, which indicates that 40% of the 200,000 farm homes in Mississippi need to be completely rebuilt or extensively repaired. The major obstacle to home improvement has been the lack of available credit."

An amendment offered by the Mississippi Senator making long-term loans available to the farmer who has up to three families on his farm was adopted on the Senate floor. This amendment, accepted by the House of Representatives, will authorize home plans up to $15,000 per farm provided the credit could not be obtained from other sources and not more than three families live on the farm. These loans would carry an interest rate of 4 1/2% and could be used for construction, improvement, alteration, repair, or replacement of farm dwellings and other farm buildings necessary for the successful operation of the farm. Senator Stennis concluded by saying that the bill also includes provisions for making direct loans, operating loans, and loans for refinancing existing indebtedness.

Senator Stennis concluded by saying: "We should encourage our young people to stay on the farm. A new or improved home is a part of farm family living, and the provisions in this bill will provide needed assistance to many of our farm families. Our principal foundation stones of our patriotism and a main spiritual reservoir of our nation. I trust the President will sign the bill. I hope that these home loans will pave the way for dotting rural Mississippi communities over the years with many new farm homes."

FISHING TOURNAMENT AT PASS CHRISTIAN AUG. 16 TO SEPT. 16

In an organizational meeting Monday night, the Pass Christian Fishing Tournament Association set the dates of the tournament for one month, Thursday August 16, through September 15. Entries are now being accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office or with any of the below named officers:

Herbert Hanson, chairman; Sam Schwing, vice chairman; E. J. Fitzpatrick, secretary-treasurer; John Dennis, weighmaster; Shannon Pickich and Burros Wood, assistants; John Parker, prize committee.

Robert McKay, publicity chairman assisted by Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Charles Merrick, Matilda Kern, and Burros Wood.

Robert Sharp is Chairman of the Rules Committee and Jack Kerrigan, assistant.

First and second place prizes will be offered in each class of fish. It is possible that there will be weekly prizes and an entrance prize. The first Tarpon Rodeo ever held in this area was in Pass Christian.

Classes of fish are:

Tarpon, jackfish, blackfish, redfish, speckled trout, Spanish Mackerel, Lemonfish and black bass. Other than prize fish the largest fish will receive a prize.

Registration fee is $2 per person. Fee will be used to purchase prizes. It is a non-profit organization, strictly for the promotion of good sportsmanship. All fishermen are invited to enter.

Mississippi Death Toll Dropped in July

Mississippi's traffic death toll dropped sharply during July despite a normal increase in vacation highway travel.

According to Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough, 41 persons perished in automobile accidents. Forty-six were killed July a year ago.

The Highway Patrol head attributes the decrease in highway deaths to the Patrol's new policy of "stricter enforcement" and the possible arousing of more safety-conscious motoring public. He pointed out that accidents don't just happen, but are caused, adding that more motorists are realizing that driving hazards do exist and are driving more carefully.

With the end of July, Mississippi traffic deaths for 1936 number 2282, an increase of 14 above that recorded for the corresponding period last year.

Traffic deaths in Mississippi climbed to a near-record 457 killed during 1935, and, according to the National Safety Council, the nation's present driving record indicates that the '36 toll will exceed that reported last year.

With Action! — Ask The Man Who Goes There!

Catholics go to Confession to a priest for one reason only: to obtain divine forgiveness for their sins.

But why, you ask, go to a priest? Why not confess our sins directly to God?

Ask the man who goes to Confession and here's what he will tell you: Sin is an offense against God; it must be forgiven by God. It is God, not man, who determines how forgiveness must be obtained. Christ plainly pointed this out when He empowered His Apostles and their successors to forgive sins or to refuse forgiveness.

"Whose sins you shall forgive," Christ said, "they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained" (John 20:21-23). Thus Christ authorized the Apostles, and their successors, to pardon or to deny pardon as they judge the sinner worthy or unworthy. To do this they had to know what they were forgiving—the secret dispositions of the sinner... his sorrow and willingness to repair the wrong done to his neighbor by his sins. Who could make this known but the sinner himself—and what is this but Confession?

But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted, but a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.

Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.

Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anointing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.

Would you like to know more about each of the seven Sacraments? How they can help you to meet the seven basic needs of your life? Then write today for a free pamphlet which gives important information concerning them. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-5.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

BY LARA LARAWAY
Home Development Agent
Hancock County

August is being advertised as Sandwich Month.

And is more of a "Sandwich time of year" than others, isn't it? Just fits in with outdoor and picnic eating that are favorites during hot weather and vacation time.

Sandwiches and the plentiful foods that we listed in last week's column go hand-in-hand. Turkey and chicken sandwiches... hot or cold, they're natural for summertime eating.

Lettuce, tomatoes, and many other summer vegetables make cool, crisp, tasty sandwiches. And don't forget cheese, butter and other dairy foods, hamburgers, roast beef and the old favorite stand-by—peanut butter.

Remember, for the youngsters long distance hikes and all day picnics, peanut butter is always a "safe" sandwich filling. You can count on it being wholesome, no matter what the temperature or the number of hours it is exposed to the heat of the day.

FROZEN BREAD FOR SANDWICHES

You will find using frozen bread for sandwiches has several advantages. It helps keep fillings chilled as the bread itself thaws. Sandwiches made of frozen bread should be wrapped, however. Frozen bread is also more easily covered with spreads than is fresh bread. There is less crumbling and tearing.

SANDWICH STORAGE

After you've made your sandwiches for a picnic, don't pack them in the basket in wet or damp towels. Bacteria go into operation very quickly in such a warm, moisture atmosphere. Perforated wrappings are foil, waxed paper or plastic bags to keep the freshness of the bread.

LEFTOVER SANDWICHES

Don't discard the sandwiches you have leftover. Why not try brushing them with melted butter and sauteing them to a golden brown on each side. You will find them delicious.

SANDWICH FILLINGS

Combine 1 1/2 pounds hamburger, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 3/8 cup finely chopped onion and three-quarter cup chopped celery; brown in a hot skillet. Add 1/2 teaspoon barbecue sauce and 1 1/2 cups chili sauce and simmer for 30 minutes. Cut 6 hamburger buns in half and place 1/3 cup barbecued hamburger in each bun. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Combine 1/2 cup ground cooked beef, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons pickle relish and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing. Makes 1/2 cup filling.

DATE-PEANUT BUTTER PINWHEEL

Combine 1/2 cup chopped, pitted dates, 1/2 cup peanut butter and 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing. Cut 2 thin lengthwise slices from an unsliced loaf of enriched sandwich bread. Spread 1/2 cup date-peanut butter mixture on each slice of bread. Cut each slice into equal halves crosswise and roll up like a jelly roll. Wrap in waxed paper; chill. To serve, unwrap and cut each roll into 6 slices. Makes 24 pinwheel sandwiches. Good party fare.

CRISP GREENS

Wrap lettuce or other salad greens for sandwiches separately so they will be crisp when eaten. Put mayonnaise in a paper cup so the picnicer or luncheon can add both when ready to eat his sandwiches; the mayonnaise won't soak the bread this way.

DEES "MOURN" KEEPER

Adams, Mass.—Throughout his life, John Zepka had raised, worked with and loved bees and was known to have had "a way with them." Zepka died recently and when the cortege reached the grave mourners found the funeral tent swarming with bees—on the tent ceiling and clinging to floral sprays. They did not annoy the mourners—most remained immobile. This recalled the tradition, "Telling the Bees," kept alive in the poetry of John Greenleaf Whittier and Eugene Field. It held that the bees must be told when a member of the family dies—and the hive draped with a shroud of black—lest the bees leave their hive.

Turnabout

Judge: "What happened after the prisoner gave you the first blow?"
Witness: "He gave a third one."
"You mean a second one?"
"No, I gave him the second one."

Scarborough still maintains, however, that Mississippi's traffic death rate will be reduced during 1937. The July drop is an indication that a death rate cut may be possible.

Boys Conservation School Opened July 30

Martin, Miss., July 30 — The fifteenth annual Boys Conservation School opened today at Roosevelt State Park near Morton with 169 boys from 61 hill counties in attendance.

Those from Hancock County who are attending the school are: Charles Byrd, sponsored by Bay-Waveland Garden Club, Bay St. Louis; Joseph Smith; Freeman Lee sponsored by James L. Crump, Bay St. Louis.

By the end of the week, these farm youths will have received instruction in proper management of their soil, timber and wildlife.

Instructors from the Extension Service, State Experiment Station, State Game and Fish Commission, U. S. Forest Service, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Illinois Central Railroad and International Paper Company will share with the students knowledge gained from years of experience. Lectures, moving pictures, and field trips are used to round out the week long session of practical training.

Night programs will feature talks by men well known in the field of conservation, while planned recreation will fill the leisure hours.

The big day will be Tuesday when the public program is held. A host of invited guests, along with the members of the Mississippi Forestry Association's Board of Directors will join with the boys for a chicken barbecue.

M. S. Shaw, Associate Director of Extension will be the featured speaker at this event and Jack Stuart of Morton will act as master of ceremonies.

Students are selected for the school on the basis of amount and quality of conservation practices performed.

Since the schools began in 1921, some 4000 energetic farm youths have attended. Many of these former students now have their own farms where they are putting into practice the ideas of conservation as taught at the schools.

Look behind your telephone

Wonderful as your telephone instrument seems it's only a fraction of what's needed to provide telephone service.

Behind Mississippi's 305,000 telephones, for instance, are 109 million dollars worth of poles, wire, cable, switchboards, dialing equipment, buildings and 4800 employees trained in telephone "know-how" acquired during 75 years of telephone experience.

Ever stop to think where you went by telephone today and how it happened? In the last few months, over 100,000 Mississippi telephone users who wondered about it have found out what's behind their telephone. They've attended open houses and central office visits held at 61 of the state's telephone offices.

The welcome mat's out for all who wish to know more about telephone service... so call your local manager or go by your local office and arrange to see what's behind your telephone.

Traffic

Hawthorne

Mississippi Highway Patrolmen stationed at headquarters in Jackson, today issued tickets and legal orders, made jointly this morning by Public Safety Committee and the Patrol, to stop the running in the Patrol's jurisdiction of traffic law enforcement.

According to Commissioner Scarborough, the new directive makes all uniformed Patrol personnel "what they should be—safety patrolmen, first." Other Patrol duties and assignments will be secondary to the responsibility of curbing Mississippi's traffic death toll.

As of July, 282 persons have been killed in Mississippi automobile accidents, a slaughter which threatens to exceed the near-record 1955 death toll in this state. We are going to use every facility at our disposal to bring this alarming accident rate down," Scarborough said, adding, "If the people get mad at us—at least we

Nearly 300 Persons Attend School Lunch Managers Conference

Nationburg, Miss. (Special)—Nearly 300 persons attended the last half of the Annual two-week School Lunch Managers Conference at Mississippi Southern College July 23-27.

The first week of the program was open to all supervisors or lunchroom workers, but the second was restricted to only those who had a week's previous study.

The final week's program featured advanced classes in purchasing, meal planning, quantity food preparation, school cafeteria equipment and new developments in the school lunch program.

Miss Fannie Owings, assistant professor of home economics at Southern, directed the conference, assisted by an outstanding Board of Consultants. The conference, was co-sponsored by the State Department of Education and the Department of Health.

Among those attending the second week of the workshop are: Mrs. Elizabeth F. Becker, Mrs. Emily G. Caperton, Mrs. Lottie Ladner, Mrs. Mary Moran, all of Bay St. Louis.

can be grateful they are alive to get mad."

The patrol has talked about stepped-up enforcement before, but has limited "get tough" programs to holiday weekends. According to one Patrol spokesman, the Patrol "means business this time. Henceforth, traffic laws are going to be strictly enforced."

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD F. SIMMONS
Hancock County Agent

GRAZING LANDS

Farmers who would like to graze lambs this fall and winter should make some plans immediately.

Late August and early September are planting time for early fall grazing. These early grazing crops are not always dependable, so a reserve feed supply will be good insurance.

If water supply is plentiful and irrigation equipment available, it might pay lamb producers to consider irrigation to help assure the early fall grazing.

Make sure of your grazing before buying lambs. Supply of lambs for grazing is usually more plentiful October 1-15. You may be able to control for the lambs well in advance of the delivery date. Weights ranging from 50 to 60 pounds are desirable.

You can expect a good doing lamb to gain a third of a pound a day, or around 10 pounds a month. Good grazing, highly fertilized, will normally carry 4 to 5 lambs per acre.

Market this type lamb at 100 to 110 pounds a month. A margin of 3 to 5 cents a pound is needed for profitable operation. If you can buy the lambs at 15 cents a pound, then sell them for 18 to 20 cents, they should make you a nice profit.

Lambs should be of the right type, quality and weight. They should be healthy.

Lambs do better when sheared one or more times during the grazing period. You can get information on this from your county agent.

OUTLOOK

Egg prices are above a year ago and should rise seasonally until late summer or early fall. The number of replacement pullets this fall will be less than earlier prediction. By the first of the time, Jack spent a week here last year. And plans a return trip.

There will be a hot time this Sunday when a 3-way golf tournament will be held at the Pass Christian Isles golf course. Players will be from Pascagoula, Hattiesburg and Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis. Better register now and have a good time.

Bobby Fayard, R. Reinike, Lucas Pucheu and Jack Seuzeneau were playing golf Sunday. They had some hot matches. Didn't get the scores. Better be on hand Sunday for the tournament boys! Bring your friends.

of the year, the number of eggs on hand may be 1000, if any larger than this year.

Rising prices are expected to continue low for the next few months. Best to expect is that prices will hold steady.

Soybean production is estimated at 11 percent below the 1954 average. At average yields, this would bring production one-fifth below last year. Prices should average well above those received for the 1955 crop.

Soybean production is expected to top all previous records, providing weather and yields are average. With heavy export demand, prices increased sharply during the past month.

FRUIT TREES

It is time to treat peach trees for peach tree borer control using the DDT method.

With this method, you must make three treatments, one about the first of August, then the first of September and finally the first of October.

The DDT method is simple and inexpensive, yet it does the job when applied correctly and at the proper time.

Mix one pound of 50 percent wettable DDT to each 12 gallons of water. Spray trunk and lower parts of large limbs. Your county agent can give you specific instructions for using this method of peach tree borer control.

After using this treatment, go out in late October or November and examine base of trees for signs of borers. If you find any, treat the infected tree with ethylene dichloride emulsion.

PROBABLY LARGEST HYBISCUS PLANTS GROWN LOCALLY
While there is a great variety of semi-tropical vegetation blooming in this area, real lush tropical growth is more uncommon than otherwise, and plants and flowers which are native to tropical climates which do fruit and flower here in Hancock County, are as a general rule, smaller and less showy than they are in more torrid zones.
However, we have in this paper featured, from time to time, unusual plants and specimen of nature, which admit gardeners have persuaded to blossom as they do in their natural habitat.
Loving the beautiful and with a respect for the skill of others, we have shared our knowledge and information of these people and specific things they have accomplished.
Today we want to tell our readers about an unusual hibiscus plant. Now the hibiscus is really quite common here, nearly all gardens boast one or more of these showy blooming tropical plants, which in their native environments are known as the passion flower. In Hawaii, maidens at one time wore this flower in their hair to denote virginity, and to show they were eligible for marriage.
The flowers bear prolifically in myriad colors, some large and single, others double with curly peony type petals. Some are fragrant, some without odor. Recently there has been a trend to develop the hibiscus and many clubs have sprung up where members work at pollination to produce finer specimen blooms.
In Bay St. Louis, at the corner of deMontluzin and Toulne Streets, Mrs. Forrest Luke has one of the most lush Hibiscus plants we have ever seen.
The plant has attained a height better than twelve feet in three years of growth. It reaches skyward over the roof of the cottage home of Mrs. Luke, and has a spread of deep luxuriant green foliage of better than six feet. Hundreds of deep pink double type flowers are in bloom, and have been for sometime now. The leaves of the plant have a waxy gloss which seem to emanate a feeling of strength when ones view it. The flowers are unusually large, and nearly all perfect in formation. The plant is growing close to the rear corner of the house on the Toulne St. side, and at first glance, because of its size, could be mistaken for a Confederate rose, or some form of flowering tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Herbert announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gail to Mr. Donald Bidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bidwell of Decatur, Tenn., which took place August 6.
ed in real verdant tropical country, we have seen many pictures and reproductions of tropical growth, and it is our opinion that this particular plant, nurtured with loving care by Mrs. Luke, has accomplished a growth to be found only where tropical vegetation flourishes.
Mrs. Luke is an amateur gardener. Her yard is not large, yet she manages at all seasons of the year to have some of the finest blooming plants in town. By finest, we do not necessarily mean exotic nor rare, but every-day plants seem to respond to her care, and blossom with zeal producing unusual beauty and perfection.
Flower lovers would receive a real treat if they would take a few moments to pass the home of Mrs. Luke and see this wonderful hibiscus in full bloom now. And a trip along deMontluzin Avenue at any time of the year is always rewarded with a glimpse of beauty blooming in the small garden of Mrs. Luke.
BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT
Sgt. Thomas Jackson, U. S. A. F. and Mrs. Jackson (nee Kay Kramer) announce the birth of a daughter, Rhonda Joy, weight seven pounds, born August 30, at Craig Air Force Base Hospital, Selma, Ala.
The infant girl is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kramer, Carroll Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson, East Laporte, N. C.
Mrs. Kramer, who had been visiting her son-in-law and daughter prior to the birth of the baby, was joined by Mr. Kramer. Both returned to the Bay last week.
